

DartFire Edge™

Cannulated Screw System

Rethink your routine.

Cannulated Screw System

The DartFire Edge Cannulated Screw System is a comprehensive and sterile screw system delivered in a ready-for-surgery configuration. Don't settle for what's available. Stop dealing with surprises and delays. Choose a universal, intelligently packaged system that fits your practice for every patient, every procedure—a whole new routine driven by efficiency and personalization.

Trayless efficiency

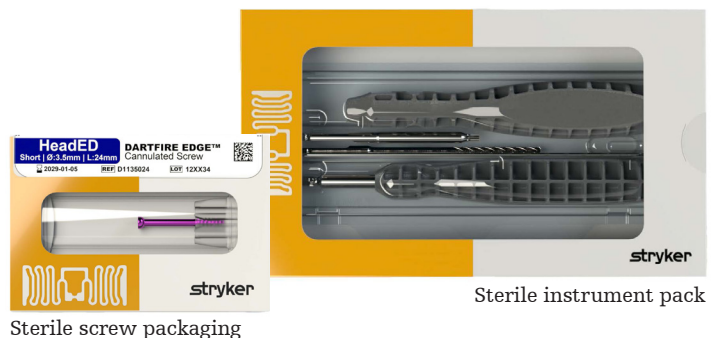

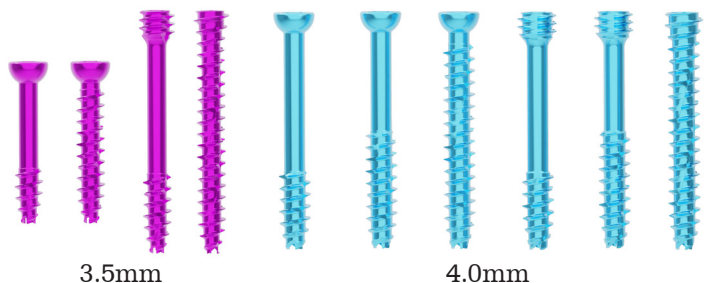

The DartFire Edge Cannulated Screw System allows you to personalize a configuration of the screws that meet your needs and preferences without the clutter of multiple or unnecessary reusable trays.

Simply sharp

A screw system reimagined, not reused. DartFire Edge delivers sterile-packed screws and instruments designed to provide exceptional bite and reliable sharpness for every case.

Designed for your practice

In order to solve real issues for our customers, we broke away from routine, providing you a personalized offering of presterilized screw options, always ready for surgery, when you are.
