

AED EVENT DATA TERMS OF USE

Your device may be equipped to automatically route AED event data to local emergency medical services. The AED event data may include account name, account address, heart rhythm waveforms, event times, and shock information. This data will provide medical personal with key information to help with patient care. If you do not want to share this data, edit the device details and check the 'Keep AED Event Data Private' setting. You can change this data routing at any time.